Carrier Fire Toll Hits 91 Killed, 201 Injured

Probe Started Into Explosion

Disaster Is Second Worst in Navy History

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP)—The Navy counted 91 known dead today and 201 injured, many of them critically, in the devastating explosion-fire aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington 75 miles at sea.

The 32,000-ton carrier, a proud bearer of numerous battle honors in World War II, was rocked by the disaster early yesterday off New England.

A violent blast on the second or third deck below the flight deck was followed by soaring flames which roared through many forward compartments. Then came at least one more explosion.

Scores were trapped in sleeping quarters. Many suffocated. Many perished in the flames.

The disaster, one of the worst in peacetime U.S. naval history, was the second aboard a carrier in New England waters in less than a year. Last October, 37 died in an explosion and fire on the carrier Leyte while she was docked in Boston.

Investigation Begun

A four-man court of inquiry, headed by Rear Adm. John M. Hoskins, commandant of the Quonset Naval Air Station, was named to begin investigating today.

Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas, who flew to Quonset for a quick inspection, and Capt. William F. Raborn, Jr., Bennington skipper for only a month, said there was no indication of sabotage.

Raborn, from Oklahoma City, said the cause of the explosion is "a mystery to me."

"All leads have proved groundless," he said. "There was nothing explosive in the area where the explosions took place."

The "best information," he said, is that the blast occurred "possibly at the five-inch fuse magazine." He emphasized that this information had not been confirmed.

On Training Mission

The big carrier was en route back to Newport, across Narragansett Bay from Quonset Point, on a routine training mission.

Aboard were four squadrons of about 130 men each which make up Air Task Group 181, based at the Oceana Naval Air Station near Norfolk, Va. The squadron boarded the Bennington last weekend.

The blast shook the Bennington just after the first of the four squadrons had been launched—a common practice aboard carriers nearing air bases.

ILA Union Leads Dock Election

Challenged Votes Could Change Result

NEW YORK (AP) — The old International Longshoremen's union has won an indecisive margin over its AFL rival in a National Labor Relations Board election and the final result hinges on challenged ballots.

The situation today is about the same as it was five months ago when the racket-tainted ILA had a vote edge over the newly formed AFL-ILA.

That NLRB election was scrapped because ILA adherents employed strong-arm tactics and intimidation at the polls, with brawls and bloodshed generating terror on the waterfront.

In yesterday's new election, almost everybody played the part of a perfect Gentleman. Heavy details of police — 250 on special duty in New York City and about 500 others on the New Jersey side of the port — had little to do. NLRB Regional Director Charles T. Douds said the election was the "most orderly" he had ever seen.

ILA Lead of 319

The NLRB announced last night that the ILA held a lead of 319 votes over the AFL-ILA in the bitter struggle for certification as bargaining agent for the Port of New York's dockworkers.

There were 1,797 challenged ballots, and Douds said it may take from six weeks to two months to investigate and tally them and decide the winner.

Spokesmen for each union predicted victory after the challenged ballots are counted. It was not possible to learn how many of them had been challenged by each union.

The election here was being closely watched in several Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports where the ILA and the AFL-ILA are at each other's throats.

Claims Big Campaign Fund Ready

Hays Says GOP Going 'All Out' To Defeat Him In November

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) said today national Republican officials plan to go "all out" to defeat him next November because of his objections to the course of an inquiry into tax-exempt foundations.

Hays told newsmen a Republican informant he did not name had relayed word that the GOP National Committee says "money will flow like water into Hays' district and we'll spend twice as much as we did before."

Rep. Reece (R-Tenn), former Republican National Committee chairman who heads a special House committee conducting the foundation inquiry, said in a statement Hays was taking a "diversionary" tack "to frustrate the hearings." There was no immediate comment from the GOP National Committee.

Hays and Reece have tangled repeatedly during the hearings, now in recess until next Wednesday. The group was set up last year to conduct a general inquiry into the operations of tax-exempt foundations.

"My opponent bragged two years ago," Hays said, "that he had a campaign fund of $33,000 coming from the Republican state and national committees."

Hays' Republican opponent in next November's 18th district election is Walter J. Hunston. Two years ago Hays defeated Republican Clarence L. Wetzel.

Hays said he believes the foundations hearings were "designed to smear the Eisenhower Administration by impugning certain persons known to be highly placed in this Administration—Paul Hoffman, the Rockefellers and the Fords."

"I don't like to take sides in a Republican fight," he continued, "but my sense of fair play won't permit me to remain quiet when an obscure witness with no national standing comes in to use a con-

U. S. Searches French Ship For Munitions

PANAMA (AP)—Tensions increased in jittery Central America today as U.S. customs inspectors at the Atlantic mouth of the Panama Canal ransacked the cargo of a French freighter—presumably for contraband arms.

An agent of the French Line at Cristobal said a search of its 8,693-ton freighter Wyoming began last night "in connection with the business in Guatemala." He obviously referred to U.S. charges that leftist Guatemala recently received a large arms shipment from behind the Iron Curtain. Guatemala is one of the Wyoming's ports of call.

The agent declared, however, "There are no arms or contraband aboard." He said the ship carried only general cargo.

The Wyoming had been due to clear through the canal today en route to El Salvador, Guatemala, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Vancouver, B.C. But officials indicated she would not be ready to leave on schedule.

Cohn To Take Stand At Today's Hearing

U. S. Opposes Indo Partition

Stand Against Move To Split Nation

GENEVA (AP)—The United States was reported determined today to stand firmly against any settlement of the Indochina problem which would partition territory of the Associated States.

This view was reported by authoritative quarters as the nine-party Indochina conference prepared to meet again in secret session to consider defining assembly areas into which the military forces of the two sides would be regrouped after a cease-fire.

Viet Nam sources said the proposals submitted Tueday by Communist-led Vietminh definitely would result in the partition of Viet Nam and would be strongly opposed by the Vietnamese.

Informed quarters said the United States had not yet taken a definite position on the Vietminh proposals, but that the first reaction of the U.S. delegation was that the proposals go a great deal farther than the United States is prepared to go.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has proposed that military representatives of the "two

Historical Collection Drive Totals $351

With less than three weeks to go, $400 is still needed by the Salem Public Library to purchase a collection of materials relating to the history of Salem, Librarian David Flick announced today.

The collection has been offered for sale by a local resident.

Contributions amounting to $351.74 have been received to date, the librarian stated, but the purchase price of $750 will have to be raised by June 14, closing date on the option. Two private collectors and the Massachusetts Historical Society are competing with the library for the collection, he added.

Assembled over a period of 20 years, the collection consists of letters, maps, photographs, books and early newspaper files. Material on early Quaker meetings, local Masonic bodies, churches, early Salem schools and industrial organizations also is included.

Flick said the collection contains several extremely rare pamphlets printed by various Salem presses in the 1850's, early city directories, high school annuals, and anti-slavery material.

Anyone interested in contributing may mail checks to the Salem Public Library, Flick stated.

Speakers Selected For Memorial Day

Rex Reich, marshal of the Memorial Day parade which will get under way Monday at 10 a.m., has announced the Salem High School student speakers on the Hope Cemetery program.

Sandy Hansell, a senior, will deliver the "Gettysburg Address"; Barbara Tausch, sophomore, will present "Flander's Fields" and Ann Baker, senior, will give the response.

Also on the speaker's roster at Hope Cemetery will be Howard Kingdom of Conneaut, department commander of the American Legion, and Rev. C. Clare Davis, Methodist minister, who will serve as chaplain.

Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor of the First Baptist Church and president of the Salem and Vicinity Ministerial Association, will speak at Grandview Cemetery and Rev. Fr. Richard Gaffney, pastor of St. Paul Church, will be chaplain.

Youngsters marching in the parade will receive free passes to the State Theater movie June 3 through the cooperation of the manager, N. I. Walken. Cub Scout and Girl Scout contingents will march and members of Boy Scout Troops will serve as traffic patrol.

A drum majorette unit, the Sylvettes, will be a new feature in the parade. The Hope Cemetery unit will form on S. Broadway at 9:30 a.m. and the Grandview group will meet at the same hour on N. Broadway.

State St. Parking OKd Over Weekend

Parking will be left on State St. Saturday and Sunday of the Memorial Day weekend, according to a written order handed Police Chief Nerr Gaunt by Safety Director William Reardon Wednesday.

"On Monday, May 31," the order adds, "there will be no parking on State St. from the beginning of the Memorial Day parade in the morning until such time in the evening when the police see fit to uncover the meters."

Explaining this deviation from past practices, Reardon said a number of letters have been received by City Council requesting that parking be permitted on the street Saturday and Sunday because of the long holiday.

"It may create some congestion," he said, "but we hope the people of Salem will steer clear of the main street except in necessity."

"We are trying to cooperate with the merchants of Salem by not taking parking off," Reardon declared. "We feel the people of Salem also will benefit," he said.

Charges Against Pair Are Dropped

Hensel, Carr Out Of Roles In Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy M. Cohn, top aide to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), takes the witness chair today in the McCarthy-Army hearings after two of the accused principals were dropped in a blaze of controversy yesterday.

Amid cries of "whitewash" raised by Sen. Symington (D-Mo) and over objections by the two other Democrats and the special Army counsel, Joseph N. Welch, the Senate Investigations subcommittee's Republican majority voted to dismiss the charges against McCarthy aide Francis P. Carr.

Coupled with this was dismissal of the charges filed by McCarthy against Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel. Neither McCarthy nor Welch objected to that but the Democrats did, arguing McCarthy had not had opportunity to present his case against Hensel.

Symington announced he plans to appeal to the full Senate from the 4-3 vote by which the charges against Carr and Hensel were thrown out. As things stand, he said, "I think this is a whitewash and I do not think we will get the truth."

Cohn was called as a witness as soon as the Army case had been completed yesterday afternoon but the debate over Carr and Hensel took so much time he didn't get a chance to testify.

McCarthy May Follow

As he was recalled on this 22nd day of the hearings, there was a possibility that he might be followed by only one witness—McCarthy—and that the hearings might end next week.

There was an advance understanding that Cohn may have to step aside quickly while the seven subcommittee members decide where or how to admit as evidence stenographic recordings of monitored telephone calls they and the men they are investigating had made to the Pentagon about the case.

The Army handed transcriptions of the controversial recorded calls to the subcommittee's special staff last night for a reading to determine whether any of them should be admitted as evidence. McCarthy

Anti-U. S. Sentiment Gains In India; Arming Of Pakistan Hit

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

GENEVA (AP) — "The Devil I know," said an Indian leader, "is worse than the Devil I don't know."

He was trying, to explain why anti-American sentiment is rising in India, why Indians profess not to fear any threat of communism from abroad.

'America is capitalist," he said. "Indians relate capitalism to imperialism, and imperialism to colonialism. Colonialism is the Devil we know."

This came from an Indian leader who is pro-American, and thus is testimony to the strength of Moscow-Peiping propaganda in Asia. Communist efforts have been concentrated upon identifying the United States with colonialism and imperialism.

The Communist party in India professes to give all-out support to the foreign policy of Prime Minister Nehru and his Congress party, itself carrying on a grim struggle with the domestic Communists.

The Red objective seems to be to drive Nehru into toeing the Communist Chinese line. Nehru does not appear willing to be lured all the way, but apparently he is becoming openly more and more anti-American. He declined an interview, but his supporters say he has these reasons:

1. U.S. military aid to Pakistan. Nothing has so stirred anti-American sentiment. One Indian leader told me this amounted to arming "India's enemy," since there has been no solution to the Indian-Pakistani dispute over Kashmir state.

2. Suggestions in Washington that the war in Indochina might be internationalized. Indian leaders picture the Indochina war as purely one against colonialism. Some of them were so much in the dark about it they had to be briefed by the British before the Colombo conference last month.

3. Attempts to bring about a Southeast Asia alliance. Indian leaders say this is an invitation for Asia to provide the arena for World War III.

4. Statements by Americans about the use of atomic weapons and the prospect of "massive retaliation." Indian leaders portray such statements as heralding a futile attempt to blast communism out of existence rather than trying to outflank communism with better ideas and ideals.

5. Failure to appreciate India's special position. This is the crux of the matter. Indian leaders apparently consider themselves misused by American misunderstanding, consider that they are required to walk an international tightrope because of their geographical position.

Nehru has been facing rising criticism throughout India — particularly in west Bengal and Communist-infested Calcutta—in sharp contrast to his almost unassailable position of a few years ago. There has been talk about his Congress party is getting soft and tired, that it must produce definite economic results by the next elections in 1957 or prepare to get out of power. Now, apparently, the Congress party is attempting to step up its efforts in that direction.

In foreign policy the Congress party's worries bring about a sort of solemn masquerade, such as the "National Convention Against United States Military Aid to Pakistan," which I attended in New Delhi.

The convention was unofficial, but obviously had Congress blessing. Speakers criticized the United States in a tired sort of way, as if required to do so. It looked almost as if such things might be staged primarily to steal Communist thunder on such issues. But, in attempting to pull the rug from under the Communist drives, the Indian politicians themselves gave impetus to anti-American sentiment.

Everything the United States does or offers to do in India is subject to suspicious scrutiny. The United States receives a generally bad press. Anti-Americanism is fanned by professional Communists and opportunists who twist Nehru's statements on international affairs to suit their own purposes.

To regain its dominant position, the Congress party wants to appear completely independent of the United States and the taint, advertised by the Communists, of "imperialism." Thus Nehru's biggest problem seems to be an attempt to satisfy all shades of opinion, including those within his own party.

For some time to come world communism likely will be satisfied with a neutral India. There is much to digest meanwhile. But the Communists in India are far from idle. They have infiltrated deeply into the Indian press. They have kept up unceasing efforts to dominate India's students, source of tomorrow's leadership. They are active in the trade union movement.

Communism's ultimate aim is a coalition of all opposition parties against the Congress party. Already in some areas the Congress party owes its dominance only to the fact that the opposition has been split. Should the coalition succeed, the Communists then could operate in the usual pattern — lopping off their temporary allies one by one.

Cadillac

A year ago, the man you see in the picture above had no idea that he would be taking title to a new Cadillac car in 1954.

He had planned, almost as a matter of habit, to purchase the product of another motor car manufacturer—a make which he had owned and driven for many years.

But then he made a truly wonderful and surprising discovery!

He learned, much to his delight and amazement, that the lowest-priced Cadillac would actually cost him less than the model of the car he had originally intended to buy.

He discovered, too, that a Cadillac will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and that its cost of maintenance and upkeep is actually more modest.

And then he found out that a Cadillac traditionally returns a greater share of its original cost at resale than any other automobile built in America.

And so he decided to economize—and make the move to Cadillac!

And what a happy, happy man he is as he takes the keys, slips behind the wheel, and starts off on his first wonderful journey.

It's a great personal thrill to sit in the driver's seat—here where the world's most distinguished motorists sit—and find yourself a subject of admiration wherever you travel.

And, if there is anything as rewarding as owning a Cadillac, it's driving a Cadillac. The car rides so smoothly and quietly and effortlessly, and holds you in such buoyant comfort, that an hour behind its wheel is an hour of relaxation.

In short, a Cadillac makes a man feel good. It's a lift to his spirit . . . a rest for his body . . . and a compliment to his person.

Why not come in and see for yourself? You'll be welcome at any time.

Law Gives $25 to Woman Charged With Murder

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Sylvester Shaw will be given $25 by the law, even though she is charged with the slaying of her husband.

She had posted a $25 bond to insure her husband's appearance in court in connection with an auto collision. That was April 19.

Three days earlier, April 16, her husband died of a stab wound, and a Traffic Court referee yesterday ruled:

"Under the law the case against Shaw was dismissed automatically. Mrs. Shaw is entitled to the return of her $25 even though she is in jail, charged with his murder.'

Convicted Of Murder, Rape, Robbery, Burglary

BALTIMORE (AP) — William C. Thomas, 32, convicted of murder, rape, robbery and burglary, awaited sentence today on all four counts.

Thomas, an ex-convict, was convicted yesterday of the slaying of Miss Della Honeyman, 67, in her grocery Jan. 17. He faces a possible death penalty.

Thomas admitted killing Miss Honeyman after she surprised him while he was trying to burglarize her shop. He admitted robbing her of $4,700 but denied the rape charge. He pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Maxwell Anderson, Dramatist, Is Ill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Maxwell Anderson, Pulitzer Prize-winning dramatist, is seriously ill at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

His physician, Dr. Clarence M. Agress, said the playwright has responded "quite well" to treatment for a heart condition and a diaphragmatic hernia.

Postman Is Rewarded For Kindness To Widow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Postman John McKalvey always had time to stop for a friendly chat with Mrs. Lydia Wood Baily, an 80-year-old widow whose mansion was located on his route.

His friendly smile meant a lot to the lonely old lady from the time he started delivering mail to the $175,000, 15-room home in suburban Wayne eight years ago.

McKalvey brought his wife to meet, sit and chat with and read to Mrs. Baily. In 1952, they moved in temporarily with her to care for her after she suffered a heart attack.

She died earlier this month. When her will was probated, it left the home to the McKalveys.

Riding Horse From Argentine To Canada

NEW YORK (AP) — Senorita Ana Beker, 36, is stopping here a few days before continuing her horseback ride from Buenos Aires to Ottawa, Canada. She arrived yesterday.

She left Argentina Oct. 1, 1950, and hopes to beat the distance record of an Argentine who rode a horse to New York several years ago.

SLAYER RULED INSANE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Evelyn Stafford, 33, who told police she shot her husband because she was worried about the hydrogen bomb, yesterday was reported legally insane by Lima State Hospital officials. The husband, James, 38, was shot April 3 while he slept.

Half Of State's Corn Crop Planted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nearly half of Ohio's corn crop had been planted by the week ending May 24, the Ohio Agricultural Extension Service reports.

The service said some early planted corn is up, but that germination has generally been slow due to the relatively cool temperatures.

Winter wheat and oat yield prospects remain good, but the report said there is considerable variability among wheat fields as the result of the adverse moisture conditions at seeding time.

Insect damage was reported light thus far, but some areas reported wildfire serious in tobacco beds.

The service said cool weather during the past few weeks has slowed development of pastures and meadows. Growth of pasture grasses is short for this time of year. Legumes in many areas received frost damage with recovery "rather slow" due to the continued cool weather.

Southern Ohio areas report the first cutting of hay underway with some grass silage being made.

FORD EXPANSION TOLD

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Ford Motor Co. spokesman said the firm's Cleveland plant operations will be second in size only to those in Detroit when a current expansion project is completed. William J. Mitchel, Jr., chief of special services in the Ford public relations department told the Cleveland Advertising Club that Ford will employ more than 15,000 persons in Greater Cleveland when the expansion is completed.

Omaha Adopts Mother, 100, For Centennial

OMAHA (AP)—When Omaha went in search of an oldest resident to be the city's centennial mother, the oldest person nominated was Mrs. Margaret Deerson.

She, like the city itself, is 100 years old.

Still she couldn't be the centennial mother. She was born in Schleswig-Holstein and to be eligible the winner had to be native born.

What to do? The centennial committee made Mrs. Deerson "The Adopted Mother of the Century."

POPULATION GROWS FAST

CLEVELAND (AP)—The population of Cuyahoga County, growing faster in the past three and a half years than at any similar period in 25 years, has reached an all-time high of 1,509,000.

Aggression Is The Enemy

While statesmen flounder in the problem of southeastern Asia's collective insecurity, their constituents flounder in a related problem.

They want to know how to keep themselves from being misrepresented.

Millions of Asians are being led to believe by inept methods of describing the issue in Korea and Indochina that the United States is helping Great Britain and France defend the practice of colonialism.

That is not true.

Neither is it true that the United States is trying to develop a system of collective security for southeastern Asia or that it made tremendous sacrifices to achieve a stalemate in the war in Korea because it opposes what Asians are being promised by Communists.

The Communists are promising freedom. They do not intend to keep their promise because the hope of freedom is only the bait they use But the United States must make that clear by bringing the real issue into the open.

The real issue is aggression.

It is the same issue the United States has joined in World War I, World War II and the Korean War. It s tihe issue the United States has tried to help Europe resolve by backing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and strengthening European economic structures.

It is the issue the United States hoped all nations would resolve once and for all by supporting the principles of the United Nations charter.

To say that the United States may have to fight Communism in Asia is to misrepresent the gravity of the problem.

There is no actual communism in Asia, or even in Russia. There is only the threat of an expanding political terror feeding on naked aggression, just as there was when the Germans ran amuck in 1939.

Aggression is the enemy.

If the war for men's minds were being fought as earnestly as it deserves to be fought in an era when words are used to conceal truth, every Asian would have a chance to know that the United States will make sacrifices for only one thing — the right of self-determination among free men.

Only A Good Imitation

A detailed story about a bank in a Long Island community which has been turning neighborliness into dollars and cents for its stockholders was published this week in The Wall Street Journal.

It seems this particular bank hasn't missed a trick in its campaign to make the residents of its particular community feel as though they could drop in any time for a cup of sugar, a coin for the parking meter, or someone to sit with the baby. Business was never better.

Since the entire description is written as a business success story, on the text that neighborliness is a marketable asset, it must have made many of the Journal's readers thoughtful.

Nothing is prized more highly in this country than the tradition of neighborliness. One thinks automatically of the neighborliness that eases the hammer blows of adversity—of neighbors who stick through thick and thin—of neighbors willing to believe the best instead of the worst. Such neighbors are rare, but they exist, and they are the ones we treasure. They have no hope of reward on earth.

But to have to wonder whether neighborliness is the real thing or a staged performance in the hope of profit is a shock to some of us enchanted parties. We wish The Wall Street Journal had left us enchanted with no clatter of comptometers to disenchant us.

Nothing The Same Any More

As we come to the end of another May, its no exaggeration to repeat what nearly everybody feels to be the truth about the weather. Nothing is the same any more, not even May.

May used to be a month of flowers that had been produced by April showers.

Today, the April showers are likely to be sleet storms. May flowers, without taking anything away from them, are alternately beaten by driving rains and seared by frost.

Meanwhile, May - walkers who have waited anxiously all winter for a chance to get reacquainted with nature in a moderately uninhibited manner, must wear sweaters to minimize the chattering of their teeth.

There is always danger in these matters of becoming confused between alterations in the weather and alterations in points of view. With that in mind—having come to the end of another May—we asked a teen-ager whether or not May was as good as it always had been.

When he said it was every bit as good, the interview ended automatically. After all, how could a moppet know how much better May used to be when it was referred to as the "merry month of May"?

No one calls it that any more.

Parliament Action Helps Commies To Stall

They are heading now toward an armistice in Indochina — provided the Communists will agree. The technical work and the planning necessary to work out a military line in Viet Nam which can be militarily safeguarded have begun.

The Communists give no sign of concurrence because the latest developments in the French Parliament open the door to a further exploitation of the French situation by Communist stalling.

Just as Allied unity began to make its appearance, with the splendid statements by Prime Minister Churchill in the British Parliament about American-British cooperation, the French Chamber of Deputies started to expose once more the weaknes of the present French Cabinet.

The steady pressure of the opposition parties and elements in the government coalition to force a debate on Indochina is continuing. Once the debate occurs, the present government in Paris may fall and then negotiations here would be delayed.

This corre pondent talked with one of the leaders of the opposition group of the French Parliament, who insisted that the next government would be "more united" than the present regime.

WHAT HE MEANT, of course, is "united" behind the ratification of the European Defense Community agreement, postponed until July, which is a long way off. Asked what a change in government would mean with respect to Indochina, he said it would be the forerunner of a policy of "saving the boys," and he referred to America's armistice in Korea as a significant precedent.

A canvass of the French situation reveals, on the other hand, that the sentiment for a strong policy of reorganization of the whole French command is growing and that, if the Geneva Conference fails to produce an armistice, a comprehensive program of military action can be expected.

This calls for an acceptance of the American offer to help train the native troops in Indochina and also for a command setup which is completely devoid of political interference from Paris. At any time now an announcement of the withdrawal of Gen. Navarre from Indochina and the naming of a new commander-in-chief may be expected.

The countermoves planned — assuming an unwilliness on the part of the Communists to agree to an armistice — involve not only American cooperation in military training missions but the stepping up of supplies of a military character.

ALSO THERE IS in the works the plan referred to by Secretary of State Dulles at his press conference in Washington to bring the United Nations into the picture as an instrument for the protection of the integrity and independence of Laos and Camboida, both of which countries have been invaded by Communist troops from across the border in Viet Nam. Thailand, which has been threatened will take the lead on the idea in the U.N.

So the pressure on the Communists is threefold:

First, the American-French talks on a military plan to aid the defenders of Indochina against aggression, which will be supplemented by staff talks in Washington starting on June 1 between the military chiefs of Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and the United States.

This planning will continue whether or not there is an armistice in Indochina because it will be necessary to assure the inviolability of the truce line.

Second, the sending of a commission of the United Nations to observe and report to the U.N. General Assembly as to aggression against Laos and Cambodia. This could mean United Nations action analogous to that which was taken in June 1950 in Korea.

Third, the formation of a permanent Southeast Asia alliance, which now embraces a few states but which will include Great Britain as well as certain other Asian countries when the Geneva Conference is concluded.

ALL THESE MOVES are being worked out now by the most intimate cooperation between Washington, Paris and London as well as Geneva. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, former American ambassador to Moscow and head of the American delegation at Geneva, is maintaining a close contact with Molotov as well as with Foreign Minister Eden and Forein Minister Bidault.

His skill as a diplomat as well as his background as a soldier — he was Gen. Eisenhower's chief of staff during the Normandy invasion — have been commented upon by other Allied delegates as particularly useful here.

The objective in Geneva still is peace. There is no desire to expand the war in Indochina or to bring about American military intervention if it can possibly be avoided.

None of the Allies wants it, but the Communists are being left with no doubt that military action is a realistic alternative if they do not soon show a conciliatory attitude.

Commodity Agreements

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Allan B. Kline, president of the Farm Bureau Federation, ranks very high among this country's genuine agricultural statesmen. He has for years opposed the trend in agriculture toward more and more dependence upon government. In this he has succeeded in carrying along the very powerful organized group of which he is head.

He has now uttered another warning which should carry great weight not only with farmers but with all Americans who are interested in a free economy.

Speaking at a convention of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers at Nairobi, Kenya, he pointed to the danger of socialism's coming in via the back door through international commodity agreements.

He said that, despite the alluring arguments of those who believe that through international action there can be achieved price stability, increased consumption, fewer surpluses, and general good will, the cold fact is that experience denies those claims.

HE CITED the international wheat agreement as an example of frustrated hopes. "What could the international wheat agreemept do in the face of seriously falling prices? If one agreement is as difficult to sign and put into effect as this one was, how wise are farmers to put their dependence on a dozen such agreements?"

The best means of dealing with surpluses, Kline believes, is parallel action by individual countries. For that reason he has promoted international trade conferences such as the one now being held in Nairobi.

Despite the obvious futility and the great financial loss to the United States in the international wheat agreement, the bureaucrats in the State Department and in the United Nations have indefatigably and consistently promoted the idea of international materials agreements ever since 1945.

OVER AND OVER, our State Department has brought it back plans for machinery to create international control of this or that. And over and over, Congress has refused to agree to them. So far, only the wheat pact has been adopted.

As recently as last March the State Deaprtment brought home an international tin agreement. This precipitated a fight within the administration itself. The Interior Department with the aid of Commerce and the Treasury opposed it, and it was finally decided that the United States would not join.

Even more recently, a new move appeared in the Economic Committee to the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

Argentina introduced a resolution, again as always in the magic name "stability," providing for a "Permanent Advisory Commission on International Commodity Trade." This body would study and prepare for adoption measures for the stabilization of primary commodity exports.

This was vigorously opposed by Preston Hotchkis, our representative on UNESCO, but nevertheless it passed by a vote of 12 nations for, 5 against, and one abstention.

THE BATTLE will be resumed in the fall when the council meets again. It is fortunate that our case will be in the hands of Hotchkis, an American businessman who is willing to fight to keep our economy free.

This will be a wholesome contrast with the bureaucrats who have represented the United States on previous occasions.

Yeh, but Getting Action Is Something Else!

The Situation In Guatemala

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It is not casual that the Soviet universal state selected Guatemala as a base for operations against the United States in the Americas.

Sokolsky

It is a populous country and the second largest in area in Central America. It lies on Mexico and the Honuras. Its coastline touches both the Caribbean and the Pacific. Its influence can extend throughout Central America and into Mexico. It can be an excellent base to endanger the Panama Canal.

The country is rich in raw materials, bananas, hardwoods, chicle, sugar cane, cochineal, and coffee. Bananas became the principal item for export and most definitely affected the standard of living of the people, which was dreadfully low. The population consists of Negroes, Caribs and Indians and the various combinations of these races.

THE PRINCIPAL commercial enterprise in Guatemala was the United Fruit Company, which, under an agrarian reform law, June 17, 1952, was divested of about 240,000 acres of expropiation. The assets of the International Railway of Central America were seized as the result of a tax dispute in April, 1953. Other companies have been confiscated.

Guatemala is now in that state of the Communist development known as a People's Republic. This means a coalition of left wing political parties, in which the Communists are numerically not prevailing, but which they control anyhow by techniques developed in other countries.

The leading party is called the Revolutionary Action party (PAR), which has 25 out of 56 members in the Congreso Nacional. This used to be a cover for Communists like the American Labor party in New York State. Most of the leading Communists are now in their own party, but this was done only to make it possible for the diminant party to be able to deny that Guatemala is a Communist country.

It is interesting to note that all political parties in Guatemala are either wholly Communist or have a Communist group within them. The most moderate of these is the Partido de la Revolucion Guatemalteca. The president of the country is Col. Jacobo Arbenez, who was elected for a six-year term in 1950.

ALMOST IMMEDIATELY after his inauguration in March, 1951, the Communists came out into the open, leaving the cover party, the PAR, and by December, 1952, established their own party, the Guatemalan Workers' party, which was legally registered and is now a member of the government coalition.

Not a single fact justifies the claim that this is not a Communist country except that in the Aesopian language of the Marxists it would be called a People's Republic.

Soviet Russia has since 1934 sought to establish a base of operations either in Cuba or in Mexico. In Cuba, the Communists encountered the opposition of Gen. Batista, who suspended the functions of Congress and abolished political parties temporarily. Batista seized power on March 10, 1952 and will hold it until the next general election, which has twice been postponed. The Communists have not been able to work under Batista.

In Mexico, the Communist parties are legal but not included in the government. The labor leader, Vicente Lombardo Toledano, is generally regarded as the Communist leader not only of Mexico but of Latin America.

THE FAILURE to establish a Communist base in Mexico, after the Soviet diplomat, Constantine Oumansky, was killed in an airplane accident in 1945, forced the Russians to develop another base. Other Central American countries were tried, but Marxism took hold best in Guatemala, which is now the first country affiliated with the Soviet universal state in the Americas.

It represents a distinct threat to the peace of these continents because, pursuing a Marxist course, it must encourage revolutionary action among all its neighbors. Immediate trouble is to be expected in the Hondurases, Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Venezuela.

The most important next objective will be Colombia because of its proximity to the Panama Canal.

In the development of a revolution leading to the establishment of a People's Republic, arms are as essential as propagandists and penetrators into government.

It must always be remembered that a confirmed Marxist, in whatever country, regards himself as belonging to the Soviet universal state and not to his own country. Some may even be Russian citizens as are the Communist leaders in Korea.

If Guatemala is to be the center of this operation, its operations in other countries will be supported by Marxists in those countries.

A-Secrecy Battle

By MICHAEL AMRINE

A congressional committee battle is shaping up over "secrecy" rules proposed by the administration to amend the nation's atomic energy law.

If the changes in the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 were passed, they would in effect make every reporter his own security agent, responsible under penalty for any slip he might make because he dd not know every last item of information on secrecy.

Rep. Holifield, told this correspondent that he and other minority members of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy will "put up a fight to see that this provision will not go through — it will hurt the atomic power business as well as newspapermen."

One phase of the amendments that is being challenged has a direct bearing on the right of newspaper and companies to gain access to atomic information about risking a fine of $2,450.

Jerome Luntz, editor of the technical magazine, Nucleonics, and William A. Higinbotham, former chairman of the Federation of American Scientists, emphatically protested against the secrecy concept behind the proposed bill when they testified before the committee in public session.

Both the old act, and the still older espionage act, provided heavy fines and penalties for any person who gained access to military secrets and passed them on "with intent" to injure the interests of the United States.

THE NEW PROPOSALS similarly contain numerous clauses providing penalties for persons who wilfully obtain restricted information and pass it or publish it in a manner that may injure this country.

For example, death, life imprisonment or a fine up to $20,000 may be imposed upon anyone who "with intent to injure the U. S. or with intent to secure an advantage to any foreign nation, acquires . . . any document, writing, sketch, etc." These clauses are not being criticized.

The pending bill also provides the $2,500 fine for any person who transmits any information "in any way to any person not authorized to receive such data. . ."

This would apply to any person "having reason to believe that such information is restricted. . ."

One trouble with the old espionage act was that it is very difficult to prove in court that a person commited any particular act with the "intent" to damage the U.S. but experienced government attorneys believe that it would be equally difficult to prove that any person "had reason to believe" that some kinds of information were restricted.

This reporter was once told by a member of the Senate that a certain atomic weapon, news of which was just announced, had actually been in production for a year. Because there was reason to believe that this was restricted information which the senator should not have mentioned, it was not published.

SIMILAR INCIDENTS have happened countless times to correspondents coverng the Atomic Energy Commission or the Pentaon. In some instances important secrets have leaked simply because an official forgot to apply the "secret" label and some reporter had no way of knowing whether the information was secret or not.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Alma Mater And Folded Pants

With the college reunion season near, we commend to all returning grads the importance this year of folding and hanging up their pants carefully before retiring. They will be wise, too, to leave the toothbrush where it will be admissable as evidence. These things are made all important at 1954 reunions by a long court battle and a high tribunal decision culminating a tough struggle between the old grad and his alma mater, which took a strangely cold view of him in a plaster cast, faintly asking compassion, a word of recognition and, at least, medical expenses.

The impression that colleges took a sympathic attitude toward a bleeding son, picked him up on the third bounce, replaced the divots, bound his wounds and said "Don't worry" had been blitzed in a Connecticut court effort by an old grad to get damages for a fall off a Yale campus balcony. "He was potted," cried the defendant, a lower court so finding. (We suspect this judge was a Harvard man.) But a higher court has just ruled that the old grad was reasonably sober, for reunion time, and it has gladdened the hearts of reunion classes everywhere by hinting that a graduate is entitled to one fall off a campus balcony anywhere without penalty.

Judge Kenneth Wynne of the Connecticut Court of Errors, himself a Yale man (and with a spotless balcony record) has awarded $14,000 damages to the old grad, making the point that when a man (especially at a class reunion) folds his pants, carefully hangs them up, brushes his teeth and shows other attributes of a gentleman, previous to stepping onto a balcony for a sniff of June air, he is not so stewed that he thinks he is crossing Niagara Falls or a tightwire, waving a blue flag and crying, "Block that kick!" We see in Judge Wynne's verdict these further rulings:

1. It should never be compulsory for old grads to bring their own balcony railings to reunions.

2. While a college and one of its sons may be drawn unfortunately into litigation by standard routines of insurance companies, any old grad flat on his back in the campus bushes should get a little more sympathy from his alma mater than from a taxi or bus company.

3. Colleges would appear to be better judges of public relations if they issued parachutes to all returning grads rather than to allow any litigation to create the idea that the first thing to do after an alumnus has broken his neck is to smell his breath and notify the insurance agent.

Judge Wynne has clearly revised the Whiffenpoof song to read: "By the tables down at Mory's, in the place where Louie dwells, let no falls from second stories bring cold stares while pity jells."

We happen to know that Yale is far from stoney-hearted when happy grads run into mishaps around open shafts, unguarded excavations or fenceless balconies. The bulldog does not eat its young. It does not sing its famous song, "For God, for country and for minimum damages." We suspect the lawyers for the insurance companies. If we were going to any college reunion this June we would bring some extra pants (folded) and a spare hanger. (And dental cream).

Duck Hatching 7 Eggs At Cost Of $300 A Day

SEAFORD, N.Y. (AP)—A mallard duck is hatching a nest of seven eggs in this Long Island community at a cost of $300 a day.

Builder Louis Hirsch, who is putting up 96 new homes here, is losing some $300 a day because he ordered a bulldozer driver not to uproot the tree where the nest is until the eggs are hatched.

It takes about 26 days for a mallard egg to hatch, but Hirsch thinks he saw a crack in one of the eggs and hopes the mother mallard is near the end of her sitting.

"I'm not sure," he said, "how long I can afford to wait for her to become a mother."

Activities during the three-day convention include an open house Friday, June 25, followed by a luncheon, reception and banquet Saturday. Other program features include individual overseas theater parties, a photographic exhibit of Ollie Atkins, Saturday Evening Post photographer, and a business meeting with election of officers for 1955.

HALDI'S

'A Last Visit'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Two weeks ago my mother wrote me she wanted to make "a last visit" to those close to her heart who live far away.

Although she came all alone to this country from Ireland as a slender girl of 16, Mama—as she herself says—is no longer "the same spring chicken." She is 66, quite stout, and though summer still rules her heart, she feels a twinge of late autumn in her legs.

I didn't like the idea of her making a long journey by herself. So I phoned the old family home in Kansas City and asked whether, if I came out to get her, she would fly back with me.

Mama, who had never been up in an airplane, hesitated only a moment, then said cheerfully:

"Sure, what have I got to lose? I'll go anywhere with you except on a department store escalator. Those things make me nervous."

"What is all this last-visit talk? You're like Sarah Bernhardt, the French actress. Every year she announced a grand final farewell tour, and she went on making them for 20 years."

"I don't know about her," said Mama. "But lately I've been going to the funerals of people younger than me. So I decided I'd make this trip while I still felt strong enough.

"I've got it all figured out. I'll spend a week with you and Frances in New York, and a week in Philadelphia talking with my four sisters about old times n County Mayo, when we were all young together. Then I'll be glad enough to go back home and—she laughed—'die when I get around to it.'"

Mama was cheered the next morning at the airport terminal by an old woman of 77 who said, "Your first flight? Why, I've been flying for 30 years. Nothing to it."

The last worry vanished for Mama when she boarded the plane and found all the windows were closed.

"I was afraid they'd be open," she confided. "I just got a new hairdo, and I didn't want it blown about before I even got to New York."

The flight was smooth and pleasant, leading Mama to give this cautious approval of the flight age: "Well, I certainly feel safer in an airplane than I do one one of those awful escalators."

I was nervous myself later as we came to our apartment door. Nearly 10 months ago Frances and I adopted a baby girl, Tracy Ann. Mama was one of nine kids, Dad one of 16. They had five offspring themselves, but the five have so far given Mama only two grandchildren. How would she react to the first adoption in an Irish family that had dwindled so quickly in only three generations?

Knowing my mother's love of children, it was unworthy of me even to harbor a doubt. I felt ashamed when Mama kissed Frances and then, without waiting to remove her coat, went over to the baby's play pen and said:

"Oh, the darling. She looks like a picture. Let me hold her."

Tracy looked up solemnly for her first view of her grandmother. But she broke out in chuckles as Mama taught her a new patty cake lyric:

"Patty cake, patty cake, till Daddy comes home.

"Daddy has money, but Mommy has none."

The two soon became inseparable. Mama had no desire to see the sights.

"I've seen them all before," she said. "What do I care about looking at your old Grant's Tomb or gadding up and down the Empire State Building at my age? I came here to visit."

Once I did ask her outright whether the fact Tracy was an adopted child troubled her in any way, and she immediately named three members of the family she had decided Tracy resembles.

"Mind?" she said. "You should have done it 10 years ago. But, of course, if you had, you wouldn't have Tracy. You're lucky the way things have worked out."

One evening Tracy came down with a mild cold, and Mama was up half a dozen times in the night to listen to her breathing.

"I don't care about the grown-ups, they can look out for themselves," she said. "But I hate to see the little ones suffer."

Tracy still had a runny nose on her 11-month birthday, when I left with my mother for Philadelphia, the next stop on "the last visit."

"Oh, I'll miss you, darling," Mama said, kissing Tracy at the door. "And you . . . you'll remember Grandma . . . at least for a few days."

As her eyes went suddenly wet, Mama gave a final stern order, "If the weather doesn't turn warmer, don't let me dare hear of you taking that baby out of this house with that bad cold."

Mama never looked back as Tracy, sensing it was no ordinary goodby, let out a cry and waved frantically. She wanted to go with Grandma.

On the train a chicken sandwich revived Mama's spirits, and she mused aloud:

"Why, the next time I see Tracy she'll be walking. And the time after that she'll be talking a blue streak."

"Okay, Sarah Bernhardt," I told her. "How many grand farewell tours are you planning now?"

"Well, you never know," said Mama, tickled at being compared to an actress. "At 66 every bite you take may be your last one, but I guess that's no reason to quit going to the grocery store, is it?"

Ohioan Sleeps Through Blast On Bennington

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati man aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington slept right through the explosion.

Thomas J. Lorenz, 23, told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Lorenz, by telephone that he was "missing" when his squadron held muster after the explosion. But he wasn't a casualty. He was asleep.

The parents said their son told them he worked late last night in the explosion area and then had permission to sleep late.

"I didn't wake up when the explosion came," he said, "because I sleep as far away from that area as it's possible to get."

He was awakened by shipmates and joined in the rescue work.

Amateur Radio Relay Seeks To Span U. S.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The first official attempt to span the continent by amateur radio relay on two meters is scheduled Saturday and Sunday and New Mexico hams apparently hold the key to success.

In a manner reminiscent of the early days of radio, messages will be passed from station to station all across the country. It's never been done on the two-meter amatuer band—a very high frequency band where transmissions are normally limited to a relatively short distance.

The toughest place to cross is the Arizona-New Mexico-Texas Panhandle stretch," said A. David Middleton, one of the leaders in the project. Towering mountains and the distance between the communities pose particular problems," he said.

The project was conceived by the Two Meter and Down Club of Los Angeles. The Albuquerque VHF Club and similar organizations and individuals all across the country will take part.

An effort will be made to move messages both ways across the nation. At opposite ends of the relay are the headquarters of the Los Angeles club and the headquarters of the American Radio Relay League in West Hartford, Conn.

Count Begun On NYC Proxies

Stockholders Vote On Control Of Railroad

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The fate of the mighty New York Central Railroad rested today in four huge safes and nine steel filing cabinets.

Their contents — stock proxies voted for the present management headed by President William White or for the opposition forces headed by financier Robert R. Young—will decide who will run the railroad.

Young's proxies were in the safes and White's in the filing cabinets. After yesterday's rip-roaring annual meeting in the Washington Avenue Armory, attended by 2,000 stockholders, the proxies were taken to the 12th floor of the Hotel Ten Eyck.

There three law professors today began to supervise the laborious process of tabulating, separating the valid from the invalid, and judging challenges.

After 4 hours and 40 minutes of noise and at times disorder and confusion, the stockholders' meeting was recessed yesterday until noon next Tuesday, when the inspectors will report on the vote.

Some sources said it might be only the first of several reports and that the count might last many days or even weeks longer if the vote is close.

The management made a crucial challenge of 800,000 shares, largest block of Central stock—voted by Young's Texas millionaire friends, Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson, who did not attend the meeting.

The Central has fought through the courts and the Interstate Commerce Commission to block voting of these shares, contending that their purchase from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway was a "sham" and that there was a conspiracy to put C&O and Central under common control.

The Central yesterday lost its latest court fight to bar voting of this block when the Appellate Division of New York State Supreme Court decided in New York City that the stock could be voted.

If the election inspectors approve this opposition block—and if defeat or victory seems to hinge on it—Central is expected to launch an immediate court appeal of the inspectors' decision.

Toward the end of the stockholders' meeting Young told the crowd he had won by a majority of between 700,000 and a million.

White said afterward, "Young is usurping the powers of the inspectors of election. I'm just as confident as ever. Young's victory statement is just some more pure bunk."

Meanwhile, Young was queried by newsmen yesterday about who he may name to succeed White in the event of victory and said, "I dined with a good man in New York City last night."

He declined further comment except to say that the man was a railroad man "from west of the Mississippi."

Sources close to Young said the man was A. E. Perlman, executive vice president o the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad, who was mentioned by Young several weeks ago as a possible successor to White.

Young told newsmen, though, that he would "look over every good man in New York Central before I go outside."

The fight for the $2,600,000,000 railroad—second in size only to the Pennsylvania among privately owned railroads—began in February. Then Young demanded that he be made board chairman and that his associate Allen P. Kirby, president of Alleghany Corp., of which Young is board chairman, be made a director. The present board of directors voted down his request.

The stockholders' meeting was to elect new directors. The Central's 15-man board was nominated for re-election against Young's candidates.

Disorder halted the meeting temporarily yesterday when Mrs. Wilma Soss, president of the Federation of Women Shareholders in American Business, Inc., questioned the legality of voting before discussion.

She mounted the platform to argue heatedly with White and hundreds of stockholders surged around. Comparative calm was restored only when a railroad guard led Mrs. Soss from the platform.

The session, covered by 112 newsmen, had some of the air of a big political convention—with organ music, bad acoustics and draped bunting.

But after the hullabaloo was over, nothing more was known about the result than when it started, and that is:

There are 6,417,410 shares of outstanding common stock. Young entered the meeting with a total backing of 1,118,880 shares or 17.4 per cent; White with an estimated 256,122 shares, or almost 4 per cent.

Lausche Seeks Stronger Ohio Axle Mile Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today the next legislature will be asked to strengthen Ohio's present axle tax on trucks.

The general assembly meets in January.

The governor expressed belief the tax applies to the highway users that it should, and predicted the levy eventually would yield more than originally estimated.

Expected to produce nearly 20 million dollars annually for new highways, the tax probably will yield only some 12 million dollars this year, Lausche said.

The fact that it has not produced as much as anticipated does not impair the soundness and justness of the principle," he told newsmen.

The tax, enacted by the 1953 legislature, applies to trucks with more than two axles according to the miles they travel.

A Tribute to — Memorial Day
Across the nation men and women in all walks of life visit the graves of loved ones who sleep in eternal serenity. Silently they place wreaths of lovely, living flowers on the resting places of their departed loved ones: trees are in blossom all around . . . and the world of work and worry seems far, far away. Let us all set aside this occasion for deep contemplation, and be genuinely grateful that we are here to carry on the great traditions of our blessed land. It's Memorial Day! Make it a point to do YOUR personal "remembering."

Hiram Showboat To Open Season

Wellsville will be host to the Hiram College Showboat Majestic at the opening of the 1954 season Thursday, June 10.

Scheduled for the opening is the familiar American melodrama "Uncle Tom's Cabin," to be followed by such favorites as "Lust, Lucre and Liquor or Virtue Unbesmirched" and "Maria Marten."

The Majestic, last of the gala fleet of showboats that plied the Ohio and tributary rivers as late as 1931, was built in 1923. Since 1948 it has been operated by the Hiram College speech department as a floating classroom in dramatics, and has played to crowds totaling 150,000 miles in six states.

Owner of the Majestic is veteran riverman, Capt. Tom J. Reynolds of Point Pleasant, W. Va.

After the initial four days at Wellsville, the Majestic will move down river with stops tentatively scheduled in New Cumberland, Steubenville, Wellsburg, Wheeling, Powhattan Point, Clarington, New Martinsville, Sistersville, St. Marys and Marietta. The three-month season from June 10 to Sept. 10 should provide time for the Showboat to reach Cincinnati and possibly Louisville, Kentucky. This will be the first visit to this region since 1950; the Majestic played the Pittsburgh-Monongahela River area in 1952 and 1953.

commands" meet in Geneva immediately to work out the lines of the proposed assembly areas.

An unidentified French general was reported rushing here from Indochina to represent French Union forces if such talks are authorized. He would sit down with an opposite number in the Communist-led Vietminh regime.

The urgency of the situation was stressed once more as French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault returned from Paris with orders to break off discussions if the Geneva conference fails to produce results soon.

Sees Decisive Turn

A spokesman for the French Cabinet said Bidault had reported the Geneva conference "should take a decisive turn in about 8 or 10 days."

These figures seemed to have special significance when compared with Eden's statement last Monday that this week or the next would be decisive. The two statements appeared to point to June 5 as the date when the fate of the conference might become known.

The Eden plan proposed that representatives of the two commands in Indochina undertake as their first task the problem of working out areas in Viet Nam where troops would be assembled after a cease-fire.

The conference, meanwhile, would continue discussion on other military matters, beginning with arrangements for international supervision of the armistice.

There was no definite word as to the Communist position on the Eden proposal.

Both the East and West are agreed in principle on establishing regrouping zones in Viet Nam, a large part of which is in Vietminh hands.

Want Laos, Cambodia

The Communsts, however, have insisted any armistice provisions must apply also to the other two Associated States of Indochina—Laos and Cambodia. The West takes the position no action is needed in these two kingdoms except the withdrawal of Vietminh forces.

Eden left this question open, apparently in an effort to get around this controversy.

still had not consented to their use as evidence, but said he probably would do so.

The hearings were called by the subcommittee to seek the truth in conflicting charges, counter charges and denials involving McCarthy, the subcommittee's chairman; Cohn, its chief counsel; Carr, its chief of staff; Pvt. G. David Schine, a non-salaried staff aide until he was drafted, and top Pentagon officials.

McCarthy has stepped temporarily aside as the chairman, with Sen. Mundt (R-SD) presiding at the televised hearings.

Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams have sworn that the McCarthy group sought by threats and other "improper means" to win favored treatment in the Army for Schine.

Pushes Counter Charge

The McCarthy camp starts with Cohn its main push to prove its counter charges—that Stevens and Adams tried to use Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to persuade the subcommittee to abandon or sidetrack its search for Reds in the Army.

Hays

gressional committee hearing as a vehicle to smear people."

Reece said the question of a split among Republicans has no bearing on the hearings. "No such issue is involved," he said, adding:

"The investigation is to determine the extent to which tax exempt funds have been used to help finance and promote socialism in the United States.

"The committee is not going to be divided from its major purpose by the well-timed efforts of Mr. Hays to do so."

At yesterday's session, Hays protested time and again at the testimony of a critic of some big foundations, Aaron M. Sargent, a San Francisco attorney who heads the Fund for American Leadership, Inc. He described it as a group working for education of leaders in anti-subversive work.

Sargent said most of his criticism was directed at "the big three-foundations." He named the Rockefeller, Carnegie and Ford foundations.

The Rockefeller funds, Sargent said, have been used to "actively promote and support John Dewey's experimental education and foster communistic practices in the school system."

He said Paul G. Hoffman, as president of the Ford Foundation, took an active part in a fight at Pasadena, Calif., over using in the schools a pamphlet sponsored by a United Nations agency. He said the pamphlet sought to undermine the U.S. Constitution.

Hays commented he doesn't believe that Hoffman or the Fords "are in any way involved in any plot to destroy the government."

Sargent also testified that the National Education Assn., a professional organization for school teachers and administrators, has been pushing the use of textbooks he said were "stacked" in favor of Red Russia. Sargent said the NEA is governed "by a so-called liberal clique following the liberal line."

The NEA's executive secretary, William G. Carr, said in a statement:

"The NEA has a proud record of 100 years of patriotic public service . . . the American people know this record and they will not be deceived. When and if the association is given officially the opportunity to establish the facts and make its position clear, it will do so."

occurred we launched the rest of the air group to free the decks for casualty control," Raborn said.

The planes, many of them jets, took off for Quonset as surface craft and helicopters were summoned by radio.

Two Navy and four Coast Gua helicopters met the carrier 20 miles from port and evacuated scores of seriously injured to the Newport Naval Hospital. They'd pick up injured on the deck of the carrier, fly to Newport, then return for more. They continued until the carrier docked slightly more than six hours after the blast.

Location Not Determined

Although the exact location of the blast could not be determined immediately, it was in the forward part of the ship near the officers' wardroom.

Capt. Raborn had highest praise for all personnel aboard the carrier, which carries a normal complement of 2,800.

"I am damn proud to be commanding officer of such a heroic, unselfish crew of American seamen," he said.

Quakers Will Leave Friday For Columbus Field Events

Preliminary Heats Scheduled Tomorrow For Relay Teams

BY SANDY HANSELL

A contingent of 12 Salemites will leave here tomorrow morning for Columbus to compete in the state track and field finals at Ohio State University.

Although there are 11 Quaker qualifiers for the finals, only 10 of the men making the trip are cindermen, the others being assistant coach Karl Zellers, who will be in charge of the squad at Columbus, and Louis Mattevi, Lape Hotel proprietor, who is helping to drive the boys to the meet.

Faculty Manager Fred Cope, head track inspector for the meet, left last night while head track coach Frank Tarr plans to join the team Saturday, although he has ben plagued by a bad cold all week.

Only Salem's two relay teams will see action tomorrow, with preliminary heats in both events carded for the afternoon. The rest of the team will swing into action Saturday.

IN ADDITION, there will be a 12-man delegation present from nearby Columbiana and at least four trackmen from Leetonia.

The Salem squad will consist of shot putter Dan Kendzierski, miler Jerry Martin, high jumper Jack Alexander, and two relay outfits. The 880-relay team features Bob Sebo, Jim Beard, Herb Haschen and Dale Middeker. The mile squad consists of Middeker, Haschen, Martin and John Chester.

In addition, Tarr selected two alternates to make the trip, one for each relay team. Bob Early is the 880 substitute while Dave Williams is the mile-relay standby.

Last year, with Alexander's tie for fourth place in the high jump as a freshman, the Quakers scored one point at Columbus and tied for 30th in the state. This year, they are rated an even chance of bettering their state ranking.

Alexander is counted upon to at least repeat his performance and perhaps even place higher. Martin conceivably could notch points in the mile run, although he will have to turn in the best performance of his career to do it.

Rated outside choices to break into the scoring column are Kendzierski and the mile relay team, while the 880-squad appears to have the toughest row to hoe.

FOR COLUMBIANA, Phil Kramer will be the key man, standing good chances in both the high and low hurdles. John Case also will run the low hurdles, John Greiner will throw the shot while Dave Evans qualified for the 220 and 440.

The Clipper mile relay team consists of Ron Zellers, George Oaks, John Bookwalter and Evans, while the 880-outfit has Case, Evans, Gary Johnson and either Bookwalter or Hub Keylor.

Coach Waldo Ward, along with Rich Berryman and Art Roher, will accompany the team down to Columbus.

Leetonia's outstanding threat is big Dave Deffenbaugh who rates a particularly good chance in the high hurdles. He also will run the low hurdles, while Harvey Tullis is in the mile and Harry Kornbau will try the 880. Coach Robert McNea will also make the trip.

The "B" events in which area boys are entered, to be run off today, include both hurdle prelims, 220 and 440 prelims, and both relay prelims.

Hogan Favored In Colonial Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Ben Hogan, Bob Toski, Cary Middlecoff and a terrific amateur, Ernie Vossler, were given the longest look today as the eighth $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament rolled into its first round.

Most eyes were on Hogan, the little Texan who has won about everything golf has to offer and wants to make it five Colonial titles. The once-tight par up of Colonial Country Club's 7,035 yards has proved of little concern to the mighty bantam, who has shot two 68's and a 69 in a tuneup rounds.

Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, and Wally Ulrich of Maplewood, N. J., each carded a 67 yesterday, and all-in-all, par for the 72 holes is expected to be bettered by the winner. Hogan said he thought 277 to 280 would take first money.

The course is in probably its best condition and the greens are excellent.

Chisox Steal 5 Bases, Hand Indians Second Loss, 5-4

CLEVELAND (AP)—Chicago's swift and thieving White Sox—who play baseball as if it were a running and throwing contest—moved to within a half game of the league-leading Cleveland Indians yesterday by beating the Tribe 5-4.

While pitcher Mike Garcia negligently took his time windup, the Sox stole second base five times, setting up their first three scores. They collected another tally on reliefer Ray Narleski's wild pitch and got the clincher on a single by Cass Michaels.

Two Cleveland scoring attempts were cut off at the plate by accurate throws by outfielders Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth as the Tribe lost its second straight game after running up a string of 11 victories.

Al Rosen — playing despite a sprained right index finer which was injured by a ground ball—hit his 12th home run of the year in Cleveland's half of the sixth and drove in Bobby Avila with a double in the fourth. Avila also doubled.

Rosen crossed the plate himself that inning, reaching third as Larry Doby grounded out and scoring as Ferris Fain at first base fumbled a grounder by Rudy Regalado.

Pinch-hitter Joe Ginsberg tripled in the top of the ninth to tie the score after George Strickland singled with one out.

Groth nailed Ginsberg at home to end that rally after catching a fly in center field.

Minoso's peg was in the seventh when Strickland tried to make it in from third on a liner to left field by Al Smith. Strickland singled and went to third on Dale Mitchell's single.

Chico Carrasquel started the stealing in the first inning. He singled off Garcia, stole second, made it to third as Nellie Fox grounded out, and then went home as Fain beat out an infield hit.

With two out in the third, Minoso made it to first on Strickland's error, stole second and scored on a single by Fain.

In the fourth, Jim Rivera forced Sherm Lollar, stole second and scored on a single by Groth.

Minoso—once a Cleveland player—walked in the fifth, advanced as Fain singled and scored when Narleski pitched the ball over the head of catcher Hal Naragon.

After the bases were filled on a walk to Carrasquel, a single by Fox and a walk to Minoso, Cleveland's Doby moved in from center field hoping to cut off a run at the plate. Michaels hit the ball over Doby's head into centerfield, ending the game.

Art Houtteman, who started pitching in the ninth, was charged with the loss—his third against a single victory.

Merchants Top E. Palestine 3-2

Odorizzi Pitches One-Hit Contest

The Salem Merchants tripped East Palestine 3-2 last night in a county league contest here. It was the locals' fifth win in six starts.

Bill Odorizzi pitched one-hit ball for Salem, striking out eight and giving up four bases on balls.

The Merchants picked up their first run in the second on a home run by Clarence Lease. They added another in the fourth on a homer by Odorizzi and scored the winning tally in the last of the seventh when with one out Odorizzi beat out a hit, went to second on an error by second baseman Henry and scored to Carson McNeely's single to center.

Bush was the losing hurler, giving up six hits and only one walk.

East Palestine scored both its runs in the second inning. Zellam walked, was forced at second base by Henry, but then Andric walked and McDanel scored both runners with a triple to right center field.

Stittle, Barnes, Stallsmith, Weingart, and Odorizzi have been chosen to play in the all star game at East Palestine next Sunday.

The Merchants play East Palestine away on Monday and meet New Springfield at Centennial Park Wednesday, June 2 in their next home contest.

Junior Baseball Leagues Open Play June 1

'Tag Day' Set For June 5th

22 Teams To Play In All Categories

The American Legion Junior Baseball Leagues will stage their grand opening of the 1954 season Tuesday, June 1, at Centennial Park.

The Charles H. Carey Post of the American Legion also announces that "Junior Baseball Tag Day" will be held the following Saturday. Funds collected from the tag day will aid the construction of two more diamonds on the Zelley Field behind Hope Cemetery. It is hoped that these diamonds will be ready for service in the near future.

For the Tuesday opening day festivities, the Legion plans to inaugurate the ceremonies with a parade around the field starting at 6 p.m. The parade will be headed by the Salem Junior High School Band, under the direction of Richard Howenstine, and the local Legion post memorial group.

Rev. A. Laten Carter of the First Presbyterian Church will offer the opening prayer, after which Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin of Lisbon and Salem Mayor Dean B. Cranmer will officially open the campaign.

Awards will be presented to last year's batting and pitching champions, and to high collectors on tag day.

To highlight the program, several three-inning preview games will be run off in both the Pony and Major Little League classifications.

OFFICIAL MINOR League games will be started the following evening, June 2, while the Major Leagues will swing into action Thursday, June 3. There will be two games per night.

The American Legion Junior team for the older boys opened their season Wednesday against East Liverpool at Centennial Park. The Pony Leagues will begin play tonight with a pair of tilts listed.

There is a total of 22 teams lined up for action in all classes this year, with six teams entered in both the Major and Minor Little Leagues, 4 squads in the Farm and Pony circuits and a pair of Legion Junior baseball nines.

The Little League outfits will be sponsored by Mullins, Electric Furnace, Eljer, Sekeley's, Fisher News, VFW, Disabled Vets, Salem Concrete, W. E. Mountz Co., Electric Furnace CIO, Salem Drive-in Theater, and Gordon Leather.

Giants Trip Pirates 2-1, Phils Top Dodgers, Braves Win 9th Straight, Nats Nip Yankees

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

New York Giant fans, still basking in the fading glories of 1951, bragged today about a five-game winning streak, then cautiously crossed their fingers. Brooklyn's coming.

The Dodgers invade the Polo Grounds for a three-game series starting tomorrow night against a Giant club that has been showing more signs of life than most experts expected.

Leo Durocher's athletes have tended to streaks this spring and the last five days have been one of their good periods. By whipping Pittsburgh 2-1 yesterday they took over second place, a game and a half behind Milwaukee.

The Brooklyn series won't make or break the Giants. But if they happen to sweep three games, or even gain a 2-1 edge in decisive fashion, they'll find themselves in the midst of the hottest pennant talk since they knocked off Brooklyn three years ago.

In yesterday's game New York got only four hits, a single and a home run by weak-hitting Davey Williams and two doubles by Willie Mays. Williams's single figured in the first run; his homer provided the winning margin.

Mays' hitting has been one of the brightest features of the current streak. He's raised his average from .260 to .304 with 10 hits in his last 15 times at bat. Included were two homers, two triples and two doubles.

Brooklyn fell to third last night, half a game behind the Giants, by bowing to the Philadelphia Phillies 8-6. Milwaukee won its ninth straight, 7-6 over Cincinnati. Chicago crushed St. Louis 15-5.

In the American League the Chicago White Sox closed to within half a game of league-leading Cleveland by beating the Indians 5-4. Washington shaded New York 2-1. Detroit handed Baltimore its sixth loss in succession, 6-3, and Philadelphia shaded Boston 6-5 in 10 innings.

Two pitching streaks were broken. Robin Roberts, a loser in his last seven appearances against Brooklyn, went the route to victory in Ebbets Field despite a 10-hit Dodger attack. Eddie Lopat of the Yankees was beaten by Washington for the first time in 13 games, since June 26, 1951.

Del Ennis drove in five runs in support of Roberts and Willie Jones added to the Philadelphia total with a run-scoring triple and a home run. Duke Snider and Gil Hodges homered for Brooklyn.

Lopat got beaten in the last of the ninth inning when with two out he gave up successive singles to Pete Runnels, Ed Fitz Gerald and pinch hitter Jim Lemon. The victory was the fifth straight for Bob Porterfield.

Cincinnati fell one run short of catching up with Milwaukee with a four-run rally in the eighth. The run that made the difference came in the top of the eighth on Danny O'Connell's double, and infield single and a single by Andy Pafko, his fourth hit of the night.

Hank Sauer and Dee Fondy led the Chicago wrecking crew against the Cardinals. Sauer hit his 13th homer and drove in four runs. Fondy collected four hits, including a home run.

Chicago's second straight victory over Cleveland came in the last of the ninth when Cass Michaels slammed a Hal Newhouser pitch over Larry Doby's head in center field with the bases loaded. The Indians had tied the score in the top of the ninth on a pinch-hit triple by Joe Ginsberg, his first hit of the season.

Art Houtteman opened the ninth as the Cleveland pitcher but was yanked in favor of Newhouser when he loaded the bases without getting anybody out. Newhouser retired one man on a force at the plate before Michaels unloaded.

Gus Zernial hit a grand-slam home run for the Athletics, who finally edged Boston in the 10th on a pinch-hit single by Bill Renna. A double by Jim Piersall and long flies by Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen tied the score in the ninth.

George Zuverink got his first starting assignment of his major league career from Detroit and went the distance to victory over the slumping Orioles despite home runs by Vic Wertz and Sam Mele.

Davey's Loss May End His Fight Career

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — To all intents and purposes, Chuck Davey appears through as a professional boxer, ending one of television's first births of a national sports hero.

Davey was more than self-made; he was television made.

He advanced undefeated through a series of warmups, backed by the International Boxing Club, until he reached the top—a title fight with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan 15 months ago.

His bubble, incubated with painstaking care with an eye on a national following born from television, was then burst by Gavilan, who stopped him in the 10th.

Vince Martinez last night in the same Chicago Stadium ring showed less mercy than Gavilan. He kept Davey, the ex-Michigan State collegiate champion, off balance with strong left jabs—something unheard of by a right-hander against a southpaw like Chuck.

And when he threw his rights, the balding Davey was shaken down to his dancing feet. Davey went down four times—in the first round from a steaming right to the jaw; twice in the third from stiff left hooks, although Referee Frank Sikora ruled a slip on one of them; and again for an eight count in the sixth from a series of rights.

The nationally advertised bout drew a ringside crowd of 3,585, who contributed to a gross gate of $10,667. Davey weighed 149 and Martinez 148½.

Sam Snead played the best golf of his career when he shot successive rounds of 66 and 65 to win the 90-hole Round Robin Invitation at Westbury, N.Y.

New Steam Rail Giant, 2 Years Late, May Prove To Be A Flop

By JAMES M. PERRY

PHILADELPHIA

Big, ugly No. 2300 rolled out of the Eddystone Locomotive Works of the Baldwin - Lima - Hamilton Corp. late last week — two years behind schedule.

No. 2300 is a locomotive — the world's biggest.

It's also a prototype — a costly experimental model — that could bring steam back to the nation's dieselized railroads.

The long, black, box - shaped engine will be tested on the tracks of the coal-carrying Norfolk & Western Railway. The N. & W. runs from tidewater Virginia up into the mountains of West Virginia and out to Ohio.

The railroad, extraordinary today because it is entirely powered by steam, ordered the experimental giant way back in 1949.

The order was placed because the N. — W. — the nation's second largest coal carrier (Chesapeake & Ohio is No. 1) — didn't want to bite the hand that feeds it. The railroad wanted more efficient and economical locomotives — but it wanted to burn coal.

Experts told officials of the road that the conventional steam engine just can't be improved. So what was needed was an entirely new kind of steam locomotive.

That's what "the giant" is.

The locomotive was the joint effort of four companies: Baldwin, Westinghouse Electric Corp., Babcock & Wilcox Co. and the N. & W.

In essence, No. 2300 is a coal-fired electric plant compressed to railroad-track size.

Coal is automatically stoked into a firebox and burned in a sliding grate at a temperature of 900 degrees Fahrenheit. The Babcock & Wlcox water tube boiler produces steam at a pressure of 600 pounds per square inch, about double that of the conventional locomotive boiler.

The steam is used to power the Westinghouse turbine, which was built here in Philadelphia. The steam turbine drives two generators, which produce the electricity to run the motors on the axles.

This complicated system takes up a huge amount of room. That's why the giant is the world's biggest locomotive.

The N. & W. is the first to agree that the giant may be an expensive flop. Similar efforts have been made in the past and all have ended in failure, one way or another.

Cautiously, the N. & W. said: The 2300 has undergone a succession of stationary and yard tests (at Eddystone) which indicate it may fill specifications."

The giant's road tests began this week. Railroad men are watching its performance with interest. But some look into the future to a locomotive cheaper to run than any yet seen — an atomic locomotive.

France produced about 60 million tons of coal in 1953 — about what U. S. mines produce in two months.

Swedish Meat Balls Are Good Appetizers

We went to a party in Minneapolis, a city of hospitable people, and enjoyed these party-style Swedish meat balls.

Swedish Meat Balls — Party Style
(Yield: 80 1-inch balls)

One pound hamburger
½ pound lean pork
1 pound veal, ground together 2 or 3 times
4 slices bread
¾ cup milk
1 onion, finely chopped
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon allspice
1 clove garlic, mashed fine
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, lightly beaten
shortening for frying
2 cups beef bouillon

Crumble bread and add milk. Stir to blend until it is of paste-like consistency. Combine with meat in a mixing bowl. Add seasonings and eggs. Beat and stir with wooden spoon until the mixture is stiff.

Dip out rounded teaspoonfuls and roll between hands into 1-inch balls. Place on waxed paper about half an hour to dry a bit. Heat enough shortening in heavy skillet to make it ½-inch deep.

Brown meat balls in this hot fat. Put meat balls in a single layer in a large shallow baking pan. Add hot bouillon.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes or until broth is absorbed. Serve the balls without gravy or sauce.

Variation: Remove browned balls from skillet. Pour off all but 3 tablespoons of shortening. Stir in 4 tablespoons flour. Add enough water to make desired consistency of gravy. Boil 3 minutes. Put in top of double boiler. Add meat balls. Keep warm until served.

Swedish Meat Balls Family Style
(Yield: 4 to 5 servings)

Three quarters pound round steak
¼ pound boneless pork
¼ cup finely minced onion
½ cup soft bread crumbs
fat
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 egg
1-3 cup milk
⅛ teaspoon allspice

Have round steak and pork ground together twice. Brown minced onion in a small amount of fat or shortening. Combine meat, browned onion, bread crumbs, seasonings, egg and milk.

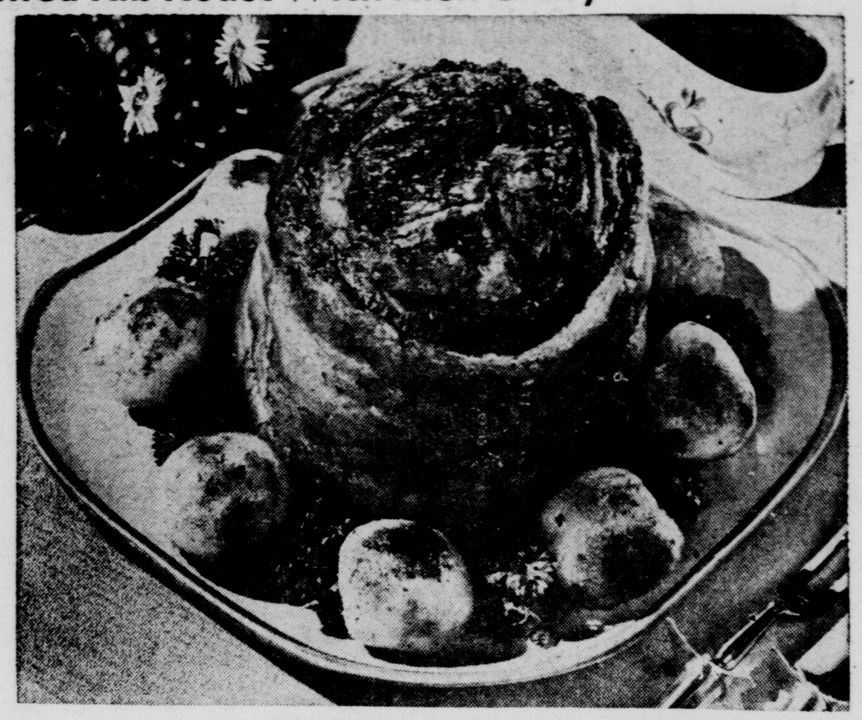

Mix well and form into small balls, fry slowly in hot fat until well browned. Remove from skillet and serve hot. If desired, gravy may be made in the meat drippings.

CRUNCHY RELISH

4 cups fresh cranberries (washed and picked over)
½ large lemon (unpeeled)
1 large firm apple (peeled and diced)
1½ cups sugar

Put cranberries through food chopper with seeded lemon. Mix in apple and sugar. Chill several hours before serving.

Rolled Rib Roast With Rich Gravy

The head of the family will appreciate this easy-to carve and economical rolled rib roast. You'll turn your meal into a feast when you serve it.

To prepare, season the roast and place it, fat side up, on a rack in an open, shallow pan. Roast at 325 degrees F. to the doneness you prefer.

The most accurate method for determining doneness is to use a meat thermometer. Insert it into the roast so that the bulb rests in the center of the roast. When the thermometer registers 140 degres F., the roast is cooked to the rare stage; at 160 degrees F., it is medium done; when the thermometer reads 170 degrees F., the meat is well-done.

If you do not have a roast meat thermometer, allow the rolled rib roast to cook 30 minutes per pound for rare, 35 minutes per pound for medium and 40 minutes per pound for well-done. (When cooking a rib roast with the bone in, reduce the time 10 minutes per pound).

Rich brown gravy made from the beef drippings is a roast beef dinner must. To make the gravy, carefully skim of all but two to three tablespoons of the fat. Into the fat and drippings, stir two to three tablespoons flour and slowly add 1 to 1½ cups water.

Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Season to taste. (When the roast is cooked to the rare stage, there will be only a small amount of drippings for making gravy. In this case use the smaller amount of fat, flour and liquid).

SUNSHINE PIE

2½ cups canned cling peach slices
¾ cup syrup from peaches
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
dash of salt
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 baked 8-inch pastry shell
2 tablespoons sugar for meringue

Drain peaches thoroughly. Heat syrup, add ¼ cup sugar, cornstarch and salt blended together, and cook and stir over low heat until clear and thickened.

Slowly stir hot mixture into lightly beaten eg yolk; return to double boiler and cook and stir over hot water for 3 or 4 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in lemon rind, lemon juice and butter.

Arrange peaches in baked pastry shell and pour cooked mixture over them. Beat egg white until stiff; gradually beat in 2 tablespoons sugar. Place 6 small mounds of meringue around edge of pie. Bake in slow (325 F.) oven 20 to 25 minutes. Cool well before cutting. Makes 6 servings.

Recipe For Winning Prune Whip Cake

When a prune cake wins $1000 for its baker, then it's time to take a taste. Mrs. Harold Johnston of Homer City, Pa., pocketed that amount for this recipe in Pillsbury's 5th Grand National Recipe and Baking Contest.

Prune Whip Spice Cake

Sift together 2¼ cups sifted enriched flour
1 1-3 cups sugar
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg and
¼ teaspoon allspice into mixing bowl

Add ½ cup shortening, ½ cup prune juice and ½ cup milk.

Beat for 1½ minutes, 150 strokes per minute, until batter is well blended. (With electric mixer blend at low speed, then beat at medium speed for 1½ minutes).

Add 2 eggs, and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat for 1½ minutes.

Pour into two well-greased and lightly floured 8 or 9-inch round layer pans, at least 1¼ inches deep. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Bake the 8-inch layers for 30 to 35 minutes, 9-inch layers for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and frost.

Fluffy Prune Frosting

Combine 2 egg whites
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup light corn syrup
¼ cup prune juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice and ¼ teaspoon salt in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, beating constantly with electric mixer or rotary beater, until mixture stands in peaks. Remove from the heat.

Continue beating about 2 minutes. Fold in ¾ cup (12 to 15) well drained cooked prunes, cut fine, and 2 tablespoons toasted almonds or other chopped nuts.

The U. S. steel industry has the capacity to produce 1,500 pounds of steel per person in the country every year.

Curry Spice Perks Up Many Dishes

For a different background seasoning next time you serve chicken, use curry spice. Containing 10 to 15 different spices, curry powder can also be used to flavor fish or egg casseroles, cheese souffles or rarebits, vegetables or tomato soup.

To prepare fried chicken curry, use:

1½ to 2½ lb. cut-up fryer chicken
½ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup fat
2 cups finely chopped peeled apple
one-third cup chopped onion
½ cup grated fresh or canned coconut
2 cups chicken broth or water
½ cup top milk
3 cups cooked rice (about 1 cup raw)

Roll chicken in flour and seasonings mixed together. Set aside leftover flour for gravy. Brown chicken on all sides in the fat in a skillet. Cover skillet and continue cooking until chicken is tender (about 20 to 30 minutes). Remove chicken from skillet. Keep hot while preparing gravy.

Add apples, onions and coconut to drippings. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally until onion is transparent. Add ¼ cup flour (the leftover seasoned flour plus additional flour if necessary). Cook until bubbly. Stir in broth and top milk. Cook stirring constantly until thickened.

Season with additional curry and salt if desired. If apples are very sweet and mild flavored add a teaspoon of lemon juice just before serving. Arrange chicken on platter.

Gravy may be served over the chicken or in a separate dish. Serve with hot rice and a condiment dish of sieved hard-cooked egg, chutney, minced onion and green pepper, chopped nuts, etc. Serves 3 to 4.

POTATO PUFF

1½ cups water
½ cup nonfat dry milk powder
4 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper

1½ cups cooked mashed potatoes (about 5 medium-sized)
¼ cup finely chopped onion

Pour water into top of double boiler. Mix nonfat dry milk, flour, salt and pepper well. Sprinkle over surface of water; beat with rotary beater until just blended.

Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon color. Add egg yolks, mashed potatoes and onions to nonfat dry milk mixture; blend well.

Beat egg white until stiff but not dry; fold into potato mixture. Pour mixture into well-greased 1½ quart casserole. Bake in a slow (300 F.) oven about 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until puffed and golden brown. Serve at once. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SPOON BREAD

2 cups milk
1 cup white corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 eggs (separated)

Scald milk in top part of double boiler over hot water. Stir in corn meal gradually; continue to cook and stir until thickened. Remove from heat.

Add salt and butter; stir until butter is melted. Beat egg whites until stiff with rotary beater; wihou washing beaer, bea egg yolks until they begin to get thick and lemon color. Stir corn meal mixture into egg yolks gradually. Fold in beaten egg whites.

Turn into buttered 2-quart casserole (about 8 inches in diameter and about 3 inches deep). Bake in moderate (375 F.) oven about 35 minutes or until puffed high and lightly browned. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

FRUITED SPONGE SQUARES

¾ cup sifted flour
¾ teaspoon salt
2 eggs

Arrange walnut quarters over surface of batter. Bake in moderate (375 F.) oven about 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Stand pan on cake rack to cool. While still quite warm, cut into squares.

Note: For best distribution of fruit and filberts, make sure they are very finely cut and chopped.

CORNED BEEF HASH

One No. 2 can corned beef hash

¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup sweet pickle relish

Spread hash evenly over the bottom of a greased 1-quart casserole. Beat egg yolk slightly and mix with mayonnaise and pickle relish. Beat egg white until stiff; fold into pickle relish mixture. Old Fashioned Vegetable Dinner

Large family Sunday dinners are a specialty with Mrs. A. M. Metzler of Decatur, Ill. She has four children and five grandchildren and they all love her cooking. She gave us two "Sunday" recipes and a menu for a bit "old-fashioned" modern health-packed dinner, using lots of seasonable vegetables.

Celery and Fresh Mushroom Casserole

(Yield: 6 servings)

Four cups sliced raw celery (stalks and tops)
1-inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt
3 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup liquid (celery and mushroom stock and milk)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¾ cup buttered soft bread crumbs

Pour 1-inch boiling water in a saucepan; add 1 teaspoon salt and the celery. Cover. Cook until tender (about 10 minutes). Drain and save the water to use for making cream sauce. Saute mushrooms in 2 tablespoons margarine or butter and lemon juice. Drain and save juice.

Combine celery and mushrooms in a 1-quart casserole. Melt the remaining margarine or butter in a saucepan. Stir in flour. Pour celery and mushroom stock in a 1-cup measuring cup, finish filling with milk and blend with the butter-flour mixture. Cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly.

Pour over celery and mushrooms. Cover with buttered soft bread crumbs. Bake in a pre-heated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until brown (about 20 minutes).

Hi-Hat Grapefruit Sundae

Cut chilled grapefruit in half crosswise. Remove seeds. Run a sharp pointed knife around the inside of rind, separating it from the pulp. Now, separate the pulp from the membrane dividing the segments.

Snip out the center core with scissors or sharp knife. Sprinkle each half with 1 teaspoon grenadine and top with a scoop of lemon, orange, pineapple or raspberry sherbet or ice. Garnish with a sprig of fresh mint leaves.

ORANGE COFFEE CAKE

2 cups biscuit mix
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon mace
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup milk
½ cup fresh orange juice
1 egg (well beaten)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted)
6 large or 12 small lumps of sugar
¼ teaspoon mace
1½ teaspoons grated orane rind
1 tablespoon fresh orange juice

Mix biscuit mix, 1 tablespoon orange rind, ¼ teaspoon mace and 2 tablespoons sugar. Stir in milk, ½ cup orange juice, egg and butter just until dry ingredients are moistened. Spoon into paper baking cups placed in 12 medium-size muffin pans, filling cups two-thirds full.

Place ½ large or whole small lump of sugar in center of each muffin. Mix ¼ teaspoon mace, 1½ teaspoons orange rind and 1 tablespoon orange juice; dribble ½ teaspoon over each sugar lump. Bake in moderate (375) oven 20 to 25 minutes.

WEST COAST PORK CHOPS

4 loin pork chops (¾ to 1 inch thick)
¾ cup honey
½ cup cider vinegar
1 clove garlic (peeled and minced)
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate

Trim fat from chops; place in shallow dish. Mix honey, vinegar, soy sauce, garlic and monosodium glutamate; pour over chops about 4 hours before cooking. Cover; refrigerate; turn chops several times in sauce. When ready to cook, remove chops from sauce; pat dry with paper towel. Grease heavy skillet with bit of pork fat and heat; brown chops slowly on both sides.

Transfer chops to baking dish just big enough to hold them in one layer. Heat marinade to boiling in skillet; pour over chops. Bake uncovered, basting often, in moderate (350 F.) oven until chops are tender — about 1 hour. Serve with pan sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Spaghetti With Mushrooms Is Good

Something to perk up the lagging appetites is spaghetti with mushrooms. There will be no need to call the family twice to dinner when you serve such a spicy, tempting meal.

Use canned mushrooms and the dish can be prepared in a fairly short time. To prepare use:

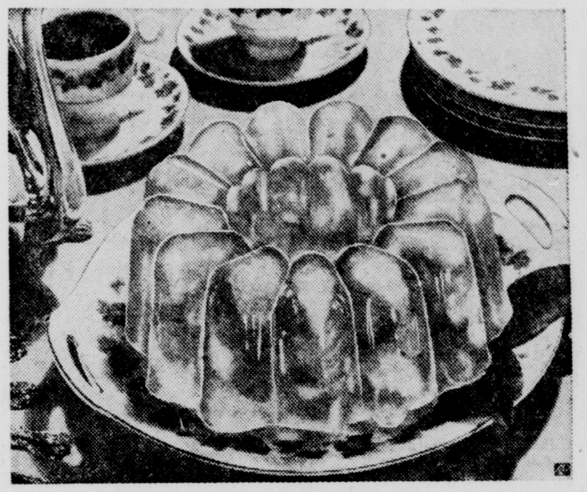

¼ cup fat
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup finely diced onion
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
3 cups tomato puree
½ cup finely diced green pepper
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon rubbed marjoram
6 ounce can broiled mushrooms
8 ounces spaghetti
⅛ teaspoon rubbed Oregano

Melt fat in frying pan. Add garlic and onion. Cook over moderate heat about 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Stir in the kitchen bouquet.

Add tomato puree, green pepper, seasonings and contents of can of mushrooms. Cook slowly until the sauce is thick, about 30 minutes.

Meanwhile cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until barely tender, about 10 minutes. Drain well. Add sauce, toss lightly and serve on hot platter. Accompany with grated Parmesan cheese if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Eat Dessert And Diet, Too

It's easier to diet than you think if you follow the Sensible School of Weight-Watching.

Let us make clear that we are not advising persons who are greatly overweight. They need to consult their doctors. We're talking to the ladies on whom last year's suit feels a little tight.

That tell-tale roll of flesh around your middle making your waistband bulge? The mirror — to say nothing of the scales — silent witness to the fact that you've gained some extra pounds? Then you are hereby elected to our Club.

First rule of the Weight-Watchers' Association is that every day you eat the protective foods that give you the protein, vitamins and minerals you need. That means you eat meat, poultry or fish; dairy foods; vegetables and fruit. You also eat cereal and bread for the food values and satisfaction they contribute.

Second rule of the Club is that you always have breakfast. Three evenly-spaced meals a day, with mid-morning and mid-afternoon pickups will help prevent you from getting over-hungry at any one time and keep your body functioning at its best.

But it's right at breakfast that weight-watching starts. You have an egg without fat — poached or soft-cooked, never fried. You drink orange juice or eat grapefruit without sugar.

You're used to cream in your coffee? Well, if you must, you start by adding one teaspoon instead of a couple of tablespoons; most of the time you take it black.

You spread your crisp slice of toast with one teaspoon instead of a large square of butter or margarine. Or if you like the crisp, crunchy taste of ready-to-eat cereal, you take it without sugar and with nonfat milk.

At lunch and dinner you enjoy meat, chicken or turkey, fish or cottage cheese. But you cut the fat away from those chops or that steak; yoy quietly leave the gravie You eat your vegetables without sauces, your salads without mayonnaise or oil dressings. You learn how delightful an herb-flavored vinegar — garlic, basil, or tarragon —tastes on hot cooked vegetables and salads.

You have a mid-morning or afternoon snack; a glass of tomato juice, nonfat milk or buttermilk. Maybe a cup of coffee or tea — but no Danish pastry!

You have one dessert a day; but you choose the low-fat, low-sugar desserts and cut down on quantities. You make, for instance, a grapefruit and orange gelatin dessert and put it in your prettiest mold. Soon you enjoy the clean tangy taste of such a dish and are ready to bypass the fudge cake a la mode except when you go on an occasional splurge.

Pretty Fruit Mold

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup very hot water
1 cup unsweetened grapefruit juice (fresh or canned)
dash of salt
1 cup diced membrane-free grapefruit sections (fresh)
1 cup halved seeded white grapes

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Stir in grapefruit juice and salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in grapefruit and grapes. Pour into mold. Chill until firm. Makes 7 servings.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Three little words, spoken earnestly by Dwight D. Eisenhower when he was wooing the labor vote back in '52, haunted and disturbed the White House last week as much as Dien Bien Phu.

Victor Riesel

Those three words of '52 and the name of the fortress symbolised harassing setbacks for the President. The White House strategists now faer that the campaigning words of 1952 may cost them control of Congress this fall and lose for Mr. Eisenhower the chance to develop his own foreign policy which he believes can neutralize tht loss of the outpost in the far-off jungles —and all that it has come to mean.

There are many miles between Bien Phu and the grand ballroom of New York's Hotel Commodore. But the world never is really far from any place these days.

Here's how they are linked up: It was to that Hotel Commodore's grand ballroom that Gen. Eisenhower went on Sept. 17, 1952, to speak to some 700 leaders of the AFL, official spokesmen for almost 10,000,000 American working people. These delegates had never before officially endorsed, in convention, any candidate for the presidtncy of the U.S.

THE GENERAL, working through Harold Stassen, had asked the AFL's high command to breakfast with him, so they could tell him personally of their problems before he spoke. The AFL executives preferred to see him for lunch AFTER he had spoken. Then, in an effort to stop the expected endorsement of Adlai Stevenson, the general spoke to the convention about the Taft - Hartley law.

"I know the law might be used to break unions. That must be changed. America wants no law licensing union-busting," he said.

Then came his three fateful words:

These words, along with the phrase "union-busting", obsessed the White House counsellors. The President had characterized sections of the Taft-Hartley law as an anti-labor force and had said he didn't want those sections to survive. He had given his personal pledge.

Last Friday morning, the White House strategists met. They counted senatorial noses to see if President Eisenhower's personal labor bill, wiping out the clauses he had characterized as "union-busting," would pass the upper house that afternoon. They were very worried men.

THIS THING now went far beyond even the important labor front. If the bill were killed on the floor or sent back to die in committee, the President of the U.S. would not be able to deliver on one of his first and bluntest promises.

The strategists told each other that such a defeat in the Senate now would mean defeat in the fall election and the loss of Congress. Whether their political judgment on this is sound or not, only a crystal ball can tell. But that's exactly how they felt that morning — a loss in the Senate would mean a Republican loss in the 1954 election.

The President lost. The bill was sent back to committee to freeze to death, although the Whit Heouse had made every possible concession just to get a new labor law passed with which Mr. Eisenhower could have kept that promise.

After all, he gave his personal word in the phrase "Neither do I," and in the use of the word "union-busting."

Now the White House policy people firmly believe that, for the first time since the Taft-Hartley law was passed in June 1947, the labor leaders allied with the Democratic party have an effective argument.

THE WHITE HOUSE now believes that the unionchiefs will go into those industrialized areas which went Republican by comparatively few votes last time and say that "Even President Eisenhower has characterized the law as 'union-busting'."

Furthermore, the administration believes the union chiefs are prepared to charge that President Eisenhower's own Congress turned him down — refused to give him a chance to make good a personal promise.

The Republicans, however, will fight back by pointing out that the bill was killed by 47 Democrats and three Republicans.

Fact is that all the foregoing political implications were discussed by Democratic senators before they voted on Friday. Ten minutes before the tally they knew they had the President by 10 votes. The Democrats voted as a bloc, including the Southern senators, because the prize was high: Possibld control of Congress next year; perhaps the presidency in '56.

Senate Okays Bill Paying $373 To Warren Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill authorizing payment of $373 to Paul E. Rocke of Warren, Ohio, for repairs to his automobile.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported a soldier stationed at the Army recruiting station in Warren, Sgt. Thomas J. Braun, drove into Rocke's parked car May 3, 1946.

At the time, said the report, Braun was taking a sailor and three girls for a ride in an army car without permission. The accident occurred on Market Street in Warren.

The bill now goes to the House.

Choose either a thick piece of beef round or a rump roast when you plan to prepare pot roast. If you want rich brown gravy, be sure to brown the meat adequately before adding any liquid.
